Sandy received her award at the dinner and Vange will receive hers at our next general meeting.

Following awards, very rad raffle prizes were given out followed by everyone enjoying a piece of one very cute doggie decorated cake! Thank you Donna and Linda for organizing a great and fun annual dinner! More photos of the dinner are on the NVDTTC website.

Sandy from page 1

Sandy stepped in to help in the office. When the treasurer resigned early in the year she assumed secretarial duties. These two additional positions require a great deal of time and energy. She basically handled three different jobs for the club in 2017!

She has served on the Board almost every year in some capacity or another. When asked to step in and help out for an event she will do so. She has volunteered at many trials the club has held in past years.

Sandy helps with the day time classes, teaching or assisting as well and is there whenever needed wherein she answer phones, helps with first day of classes/orientation, takes in money, and spends hours balancing the money and returning phone calls. Thank you Sandy for all that you have done and all that you do!

Mental Health and Companion Dogs

There are positive benefits for many people who share their life with a dog as a companion. A new study conducted by researchers from the universities of Liverpool, Manchester and Southampton address this very aspect of those with mental health conditions. This detailed study is available online at www.sciencedaily.com and is a fairly straightforward read.

trials, fun events such as Napa Humane's Walk for Animals, public outreach and training activities. Vange willingly dedicates her time and resources to make our club the place to be.

In 2017, although not a board member, she took on the lead role managing the office, driving miles from out of town to take care of answering phones, and procuring of-office help to make sure the office was covered. Much of what she does is behind the scenes like making sure our student database is kept up to date, a database used to send out notices about NVDTC classes and events to encourage students' ongoing interest in our club. And did you know, she is even a CGC evaluator?

Vange is very creative and is continuously coming up with ideas for special events or fun nights to bring owners and their dogs together in delightful ways such as sock hops and massage nights. She is always introducing new types of classes like Tricks and Games, Mighty Mights, and Out and About. In 2017, a number of similar type classes she helped developed were offered as mini-classes as part of NVDTC's Happy Summer Tails program.

Vange is a strong member who believes the club's welfare is of utmost importance. Toward this end, she is always ready to help out wherever and whenever needed. Thank you Vange for all the professionalism, patience, helpfulness, and resourcefulness you have given and do give to our club!

Are Ice Cubes Good for Dogs?

In an article written by Dr. Jerry Klein, Chief Veterinary Officer of AKC, he states ice cubes are not dangerous to dogs, per se. So, if you're thinking about offering an ice cube . . . chill. It's OK.

Dr. Klein does cover situations in his article wherein dogs become overheated and how to handle in relation to ice in that giving an ice bath is not a good idea or when there is a need to encourage a dog to drink more, like while traveling, putting ice cubes in their water dish helps. Ice cubes can also help slow down a dog who is gulping water too fast.

To read this specific in-depth article go to akc.org and search on "Are ice cubes good for dogs?" AKC.org is a wonderful source for all kinds of information on dogs.

"Dogs have given us their absolute all. We are the center of their universe. We are the focus of their love and faith and trust. They serve us in return for scraps. It is without a doubt the best deal man has ever made."
