HELP VICTIMS OF THE VALLEY FIRE

by Gerry Glantz

At our last general meeting we spoke about the Valley Fire and effect it has had on people living in those devastated communities. Many of the agencies we spoke to indicated that donation of funds and food generously donated had covered the care for pets affected by the fires, as far as medical needs and food were concerned. What they express at this time is a need for long term foster care for animals, (dog, cat and horses) that still need a place to live while their families rebuild or recover in other ways and are once again able to care for their pets.

If you have a desire to help and have room to foster an animal, please contact one of the links below to discuss your willingness to help out. Be sure to mention Napa Valley Dog Training Club so they will be aware that the club is doing what it can to help the Valley Fire victims.

WE HAVE A JOB FOR YOU!

by Gerry Glantz

As most of you are aware, we are still searching for people to serve on our 2016 Obedience/Rally Trial committee. Most of the jobs are not difficult and do not take too much time and those of us who have done the jobs are willing to assist you.

Several of you were hesitant to volunteer because you did not know what the job involved. To help you out, I have made a very brief outline of the various jobs of the Trial Committee. I know we all want our trial to be successful, and that will take a coordinated effort by the entire club. So look over the jobs below and decide which one you would like to volunteer to do. We will be asking for your assistance again at the November meeting, so please COME PREPARED TO SAY YES when we ask for volunteers! Thank you in advance for being willing to support NVDC with your time and energy!

NEW OUT & ABOUT CLASS A HIT

by Vange Leonis, Trainer

This class was designed to learn, teach, and experience being in public situations safely with your dog. The materials and methods used came from training used for service dogs and therapy dogs, a search of the literature, and lifetime experience. The goal of the class was to teach proper etiquette and good manners when in public with your dog. There were three venues that were practiced – Shopping, Dining Out, and Community Event. Handlers learned and practiced different skill sets in preparation for the mock venue the following week.

Shopping dealt with positioning your dog while window shopping or in a dog friendly store. Practice was done for tight spaces and a variety of distractions including children, wheelchairs, strollers, and food on the street or under a table.

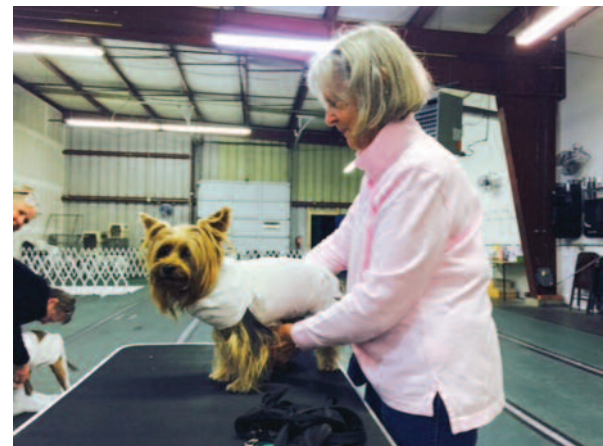

Methods for traveling on an elevator were also practiced. The proper place to potty your dog was discussed.

Dining Out venue was very timely with more and more restaurants offering outdoor dog friendly seating. Handlers experienced eating real food and dining with their dog in an outdoor patio café, at a banquet, and a picnic on the ground all within the club. Having your dog settled and relaxed while you were eating and talking with other people was the goal. An important lesson in dining out at a restaurant is positioning your dog out of the way of the server and away from sidewalk traffic distractions. Strategies for where to park and anchor your dog while dining were taught.

Community Event was a Halloween celebration. We had a party with a costume parade, dancing with your dog to Halloween hit music, dogs dunking for hotdogs, trick or treat for dog cookies, and a mummy wrap. There was also an opportunity to practice a movie in the park.

This six week class offered a wealth of practical information with a chance to practice and learn in a safe environment. Some additional topics discussed were: what to bring for your dog when traveling, reading dog body language to know when your dog is stressed and how to destress your dog, proper way for your dog to meet a stranger, a child, or a person afraid of dogs, and what to do when approached by a loose or reactive dog. At the end of each class there was time to reflect on the role play experience and answer any questions. The group shared their dog traveling experiences and recommendations for trips in the future.

This class will be offered again in the spring session. Hope to see you then.

Dear Training Staff,

I want to take a minute to not only thank you directly but also let the membership know what a wonderful job you do throughout the year. I appreciate how you have offered encouraging ideas, supported each other and embraced unforeseen changes. Thanks to this energy, the club has been able to offer new classes and attract new staff. In turn, class participants have repeatedly told me how much they enjoy these changes and are looking forward to continuing with our club.

So many of you teach each week with a smile on your face and a sincere wish to help dogs and their families. Your kindness is the Front Door of our club and your efforts to help the community can never be underestimated.

I'd like to give a special thanks to the following people, instructors and support staff alike, who positively contribute to our training program.

Bobbie Honsvick for the adorable class certificates that bring smiles to our students. They love taking these keepsakes home.

Lynda Rhyno for keeping our training supplies stocked. Her efforts allow our members and students equipment options at very affordable prices.

Vange Leonis, Judy Gamet, Marlene Soldavini, Kim Leslie and Donna Golemon for helping develop new classes. Thank you for stepping up to the challenge I set in late 2013 and working with the board to provide these opportunities.

Sue Osborn for creating ways to promote our activities, especially our New, Returning and Specialty Classes. Now our club can accept early registrations months in advance and allow members and students a way to plan their pet's future.

Lynda Wargo for creating an inventory of our club's materials and training equipment, plus providing insights into canine competition sports. Her help has allowed me to reach out and learn about future options for our group.

Sandy Bonifield, Cheryl Meyers, Marlene and Stan Soldavini for filling in whenever an extra pair of hands were needed. These members keep the classes running smoothly by working behind the scenes in both the office and on the training floor. Without them a lot of 'little things' would go undone.

Thank you all for making the club a priority in your life. It is a pleasure to work with you.
